The Act requires contractors and subcontractors to pay laborers, workers and mechanics performing services on public works projects no less than the "prevailing rate of wages" (hourly cash wages plus the amount for fringe benefits) in the county where the work is performed. The Illinois Department of Labor publishes the prevailing wage rates on its website at: http://www.state.il.us/agency/idol/rates/rates.HTM. The certified payroll records must include for every worker employed on the public works project the name, address, telephone number, social security number, job classification, hourly wages paid in each pay period, number of hours worked each day, and starting and ending time of work each day. Projects always entail the delivery of a requirements document. On signing off on finalized requirements documentation, the development cycle begins. The Laserfiche development cycle runs in an agile manner where the team will demo new features/processes as they are being built to receive immediate feedback in coordination with the requirements deliverable. After development, the project enters the user acceptance testing phase where Laserfiche and our customer will work together to turn the requirements document into a test plan. Knowledge transfer occurs during the entire project but agreed upon documentation is typically delivered between the UAT/Go-Live phases of the project.

Laserfiche's most successful projects follow a train-the-trainer approach, where a subset of business/admin users are trained directly by the Laserfiche staff and become well versed in the documentation provided.
